Within eight weeks Cube Management had sourced, screened and submitted some of the areas top sales professionals for newly hired Sales Manager, Russ Kuhn to evaluate. Russ selected Richard Pedersen a senior software sales professional who had sold computer hardware, software and services to the high tech community, primarily in the semiconductor industry. According to Lou Maki, Senior Recruiter at Cube Management, "Rich was the perfect candidate for CorSource, he understood their market objectives and was very familiar with the California marketplace which is something CorSource is considering for future expansion of their business."
